

Corrected Will Call Change Dates & DC Closure

As part of our ongoing efforts to improve operational efficiency, S&S Activewear will be closing several distribution centers in 2026.

By bringing our operations together into a more unified and efficient distribution network, we are enabling a network that will deliver an even stronger customer experience, including:

- Fewer split shipments
- Improved order accuracy with more volume running through advanced automation
- Higher on-time shipping performance
- Broader SKU availability in each warehouse
- Reduced carbon emissions from a more streamlined and efficient footprint

Beginning in January, SKU and inventory availability at the closing facilities will be minimal as we move towards closure dates, so we encourage you to plan ahead when placing orders. Orders for high-volume SKUs should be directed to the next closest operational distribution center.

Please note that a few key dates have changed from our original communication; the updates are highlighted in orange below.
